VOL. VII. NO. 147 FRESNO, CALIFORNIA, THURSDAY, JUNE 28, 1894 PRICE—5 CENTS

THE PULLMAN BOYCOTT

Train Men Refuse to Haul Pullman Cars.

RAILROAD TRAVEL SUSPENDED

The Tie-up so Complete That no one Could Enter or Leave California Last Night.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—The American Railway Union men in the employ of the Southern Pacific have asserted their power. As a result of their attempt to enforce the Pullman boycott, passenger trains are tied up at every railroad center in the State. Save by local trains there will be no passenger service out of San Francisco or Oakland tonight, and there is every indication that the tie-up may be protracted. An official of the Southern Pacific Company declared this afternoon that his people had made up their minds that if they are not to be allowed to run the Pullman coaches they will run no trains at all. Local officers of the American Railway Union declare the Pullman coaches must be withdrawn and both sides seem to be prepared for a bitter and determined fight.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—Not a train left Oakland tonight except those engaged in local traffic. The Southern Pacific Company adhered to its determination not to run trains without Pullman cars, and trainmen were equally as determined not to handle cars bearing the hated name of Pullman. Consequently hundreds of people who expected to travel north, south and east were forced to return to San Francisco. The trainmen went to their homes and the big Oakland mole was deserted except from ferry boat employes and suburban train hands.

So complete is the tie-up that no one can leave or enter California by rail tonight. The Southern Pacific has made no arrangements to resume traffic, and there is no telling when such an attempt will be made.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—Superintendent Fillmore said: "Our trains are for the accommodation of passengers, baggage and express matter. If we are not permitted to furnish these accommodations we will not run trains. That is our decision. We cannot tell what will develop, and our future course will depend upon circumstances. As to the mail service, I am in doubt. We carry mail on our regular trains. If unable to run these trains I do not see how we can be expected to carry the mails. We are not, I assume, expected to run special trains for mails alone. Debarred from the use of Pullmans we cannot carry passengers. If people cannot have them to travel in they will not travel." Speaking of the trains tied up at Sacramento and Los Angeles, Mr. Fillmore said he did not know whether an appeal would be made to the civil authorities for protection. It is better for people to stop in San Francisco instead of being delayed at some way station. "We do not propose to subject them to the latter annoyance, and so, unless assured that our trains will run through, they will not start."

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—The Call will say tomorrow morning: General Manager Towne of the Southern Pacific sent a dispatch to Mr. Pullman yesterday, which will cause a settlement of the trouble within twenty-four hours. In the contract the railroad company has with Pullman there was inserted a clause designed to meet just such an emergency as the present. It is to the effect that if at any time Pullman should become unable to afford the service required of him, or if in supplying that service he shall in any way prejudice the interests of the railroad company, the contract shall be considered void. Mr. Towne's telegram to Chicago was to the effect that if the present trouble is not settled within a specified time the railroad company would consider the contract as void and take steps to supply the necessary service itself.

OAKLAND, June 27.—Meetings of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and American Railway Union were held tonight. At the session of the first-mentioned fraternity resolutions were adopted indorsing the action of the American Railway Union, and steps were taken to give the boycott substantial aid. Over 100 new members were received into the American Railway Union at its session last night. Resolutions were received from the Switchmen's Union upholding the action of the American Railway Union. The order is preparing a statement for publication today. This will give the original cause of the boycott, grievances of the Pullman employes and the assurance that those interested in the movement are ready to perform any duty except handling Pullman cars.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 27.—The Pullman boycott has resulted in tying up at this point all overland passenger trains on both the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe railroads.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 27.—The train scheduled to leave here for San Francisco at 7.45 is the southern overland, and as it had started north by way of Yuma before the boycott was declared it is thought by railroad officials that it would be properly manned and allowed to proceed to its destination. A meeting of trainmen was held and the subject discussed. They decided it should not be allowed to proceed any further north. This train is now tied up at the depot to the disgust of many passengers anxious to get to San Francisco.

SACRAMENTO, June 27.—The Southern Pacific was made to feel the American railway union boycott against all Pullman cars this morning. The climax came this forenoon, when the passenger train running between this city and San Francisco and carrying Pullman sleepers for the benefit of Los Angeles passengers, was stalled in the yards. It was demonstrated that the American Railway Union is strong among Southern Pacific employes. All trainmen, including switchmen and car cleaners, declared they had no grievance against the railroad company, but that they would positively refuse to handle Pullman coaches. The eastbound passenger train was permitted to proceed, inasmuch as the American Railway Union men had allowed the train to leave the Oakland yards, but the men insist that no other trains shall be permitted to go out with Pullman cars.

PORTLAND, Or., June 27.—Trains on the Oregon division of the Southern Pacific have not been affected so far by the boycott of the Pullman Company. All trains left tonight on time.

LAS VEGAS, N. M., June 27.—An engineer and fireman, who refused to move a train containing Pullman cars, were discharged and a general strike on the Santa Fe system has been declared until they are reinstated.

LA JUNTA, Col., June 27.—Through passenger trains are held here on account of the boycott of the Pullman cars. Forty firemen were discharged for refusing to go out on these trains, and one engineer from South End. The company is feeding 100 passengers.

RATON, N. M., June 27.—President Debs of the American Railway union has issued an order for a strike on the entire Santa Fe system. The men were ordered to remain out until the discharged employes are re-instated. Tonight no wheel is moving on the entire New Mexico division. Several arrests will be made if United States marshals can arrive from Santa Fe. Judge Lees of Santa Fe issued an injunction restraining the strikers from interferring with the property of the company in New Mexico.

TACOMA, Wash., June 27.—The Pullman trouble has not extended to the Northwest, so far as can be learned from Northern Pacific employes and officials up to a late hour last night. The local American Railway Union men say no orders regarding the strike have been received here. Pullman cars are coming and going as usual.

PUEBLO, Colo., June 27.—Pueblo's two lodges of the American Railway Union in session tonight voted to carry out the boycott on Pullman sleepers and to make it apply on all roads entering here, the Denver and Rio Grande, Santa Fe, Rock Island, Missouri Pacific and Union Pacific, Denver and Gulf. When the Santa Fe train No. 6 from Denver for the east pulled into Union depot at 11.15 some fifty switchmen were on hand and uncoupled the sleepers from the real of the train. The same thing was done to sleepers on Santa Fe No. 7 from La Junta and the east which rolled into the depot a few minutes later. On this train were sleepers which were held at Junta all day, the train due here this morning from the east. Rio Grande No. 3 from Denver for the west received the same reception at the depot. All employes refused to recouple the sleepers, and the trains will be held here, say the railroad authorities, until the sleepers go as usual. All trains coming tonight will be uncoupled. The sheriff was appealed to, but could not get enough men to watch them and prevent cutting off the Pullmans. The Santa Fe will apply to the United States marshal. The Rio Grande and other roads will probably take the same course on the ground of interference with the mails.

CINCINNATI, O., June 27.—About 500 switchmen from Ludlow, Ky., met here tonight and resolved to boycott Pullman cars tomorrow, beginning with Cincinnati Southern. At the Pullman shops at Ludlow eighty-four men worked today. Tomorrow the force will be increased to 108, within twenty of the number of strikers.

CHICAGO, June 27.—The employes of the Chicago Great Western railway went out tonight, making a total of eleven Chicago roads now tied up and crippled by the American Railway Union boycott of Pullman cars. The roads so far affected by the strike at this point are: Illinois Central, Santa Fe, Chicago and Great Western, Chicago and Northern Pacific, West Indiana, Wisconsin Central, Chicago and Eastern Illinois, Burlington and Ohio, Wabash, Monon and the Grand Trunk. On some of these roads Pullman cars were still being carried tonight, but the strike leaders confidently said that tomorrow will see the boycott completely effective. The men, who have been leaving slowly and in small lots, are beginning to show the effects of the American Railroad Union's "missionary work," and tonight the boycott sentiment is more general and apparent than at any previous time. An attempt was made this evening to send out the St. Paul train on the Chicago Great Western with a Pullman sleeper attached. The train started out, but when it was found a sleeper had been coupled on, the trainmen pulled the bell rope and as the engineer reversed the engine two men rushed to the coupling and in a few minutes the train pulled out leaving the Pullman in the depot. Crowds of strikers and sympathizers gathered in the railroad yards in different portions of the city and the police were kept busy quelling their demonstrations. Strikers drove the Illinois Central employes from the yards at Fordham despite the efforts of a detail of police and an additional force has been sent out to that point. Later in the evening a large crowd gathered in the western Indiana yards at Arched avenue and became so demonstrative that the police there were doubled.

NATIONAL LEAGUE CLUB.

Resolutions Adopted at the Denver Session.

DENVER, Col., June 27.—The resolutions adopted by the National League of Republican Clubs renew allegiance to the Republican party, demand legislation to secure honest elections, declare a belief in the doctrine of protection of American labor and in reciprocity.

The plank is as follow: We believe in the issue of gold and silver as money metals, maintained on a par from parity and inter-convertibility. We do not believe there will be a permanent return of prosperity to our country until the full use and highest position of silver shall be restored, and we favor such legislation as will bring about this result. Prompt admission to the Union of the territories of Utah, Arizona, New Mexico and Oklahoma is favored. Favorable consideration of woman suffrage is commended to Republican clubs.

President Tracy was re-elected. Andrew B. Humphrey of New York was elected secretary. Cleveland, O., was selected as the next place of meeting, and the convention adjourned sine die.

THE CHILDERS CASE

An Attempt to Prove an Alibi.

MORE DAMAGING TESTIMONY

The Case Given to the Jury Which Is Said to be for Acquittal.

The trial of Marion Childers for burglary was resumed before Judge Webb yesterday morning. The cross-examination of W. S. James was concluded without any new facts being elicited.

Elmo Headley was the next witness for the people, but nothing of importance was elicited from him. He asserted he was at home on the night of January 10th and 11th, and read of the robbery the next morning.

Walter Weaver, who had been brought down from San Quentin to testify, gave more damaging testimony against the defendant. On the night of the robbery he met Childers, who told him he had got $160 from the Schleighs and that he had had much trouble in getting it. Some time after the robbery witness again met Childers, who told him that he heard Weaver was to be a witness against him and asked him not to testify to what he, Childers, had told him about the burglary at Schleigh's.

B. M. Hague, the grocer, testified that Mrs. Childers had come to his store on January 12, 1893, and paid a bill amounting to $15 or $16. Schleigh was recalled, and stated that the money stolen from him was in $20 gold pieces, some silver and bills. This closed the case for the prosecution.

The opening address for the defense was made by Attorney D. M. Seaton. He stated that he would prove an alibi for Childers; that when James claimed to have talked with Childers about the burglary Childers was in Sanger, and that Childers did not leave home on the night the burglary was committed. He also promised to prove the bad reputation of the people's most important witnesses.

The defense began by putting on a number of character witnesses, who testified they had never heard anything to Childers' discredit before this case came up. Among them were Edward Huff, Truman G. Hart, H. A. Taggart, W. D. Crichton, John Fillson, D. R. Prince and others.

B. M. Hague testified he had known Childers ten years. On one occasion Childers had promised him money due on a bill, saying he expected some money from Mrs. McWhirter. Witness afterwards discovered that Childers had no expectation of receiving this money. This was elicited in cross-examination by Mr. Snow.

W. D. Crichton said that so far as he knew Childers' reputation was good until he became mixed up with the James gang. H. A. Taggart, who married the defendant's sister, also thought Childers' character good. It was his buggy Childers had on the 10th of January, the day before the robbery, when Childers and Schleigh went out riding. Witness did not know where Childers was on the night of the 11th. Early in the evening he was at home. He read of the burglary next day.

After the noon recess Dante Prince added his version to the statements of the witnesses called to prove the good reputation of Childers, by stating that Childers' reputation was good with the prosecution in the Heath case and bad with the Heath sympathizers.

Mrs. Childers then took the stand. She testified that at the time the robbery was said to have been committed Childers was at home in bed. They occupied the same apartment, and if Childers had gone out she would certainly have known it.

The witness also testified that she paid the rent and grocery bills, which the prosecution claimed to have been liquidated with the money stolen from the Schleighs, with the proceeds of two checks drawn by Lee Blasingame in her husband's favor.

W. H. McKenzie here produced and identified the checks.

Mrs. Childers was not shaken in cross-examination, but her relations to the defendant naturally impaired the force of her testimony, and Assistant District Attorney Snow asked her very few questions.

Mrs. C. E. Perry and her son Alva were called to prove that on the night of the robbery "Doc" Dillwood was at home at their house on Q street. Dillwood and his wife occupied apartments in Mrs. Perry's house, and the date of the robbery was fixed in her mind by the fact that she was going to move out the next day. Dillwood came home early and did not go out at all that night.

Young Perry gave similar testimony, adding that he slept on the floor right opposite the door of the room occupied by the Dillwoods, and only four feet from it, so that it would have been impossible for Dillwood to go out in the middle of the night without awakening him.

The defendant, Childers, then took the stand on his own behalf. He claimed that on the night of the robbery he came home at 9 o'clock and remained all night. He admitted that he had driven out with Schleigh during the early part of the day, but denied that when Schleigh paid for some drinks he had a money sack in his hand containing $200. He did not see the sack at all.

Mr. Snow severely cross-questioned the witness, who said that on January 11th he was in Sanger and saw Dr. Watson, A. S. Careton and a restaurant keeper named Hanes. He had gone to see Dr. Watson about the Heath case, being a witness before the grand jury. He continued that James, the principal witness against him, had threatened when in jail to make trouble for him if he didn't stop certain inquiries in the McWhirter murder case. Witness told James that he was in such a position that he could not stop, and would not if he could.

A. S. Cureton testified to having met Childers in Sanger, but could not fix the date.

Mr. Snow then addressed the jury for the prosecution, claiming that the attempt of Childers to prove an alibi was unsupported by any testimony except his wife's. This was opposed to the positive testimony of James and Elmo Headley, and it was only natural that the wife should shield her husband. There was no such evidence against Dilwood as against Childers, and this was why Dillwood had not been charged as an accomplice in the crime. He claimed that it amounted to a certainty that the old people had been robbed by James and Childers, as the former had testified, and that part of the money stolen had been used to pay the rent and grocery account referred to. If the Blasingame checks had been given many days before, it was not likely that the Childers people would wait to cash them and remain short of money while Mrs. Childers was sick.

Mr. Seaton argued for the defendant, and insisted that the evidence of James, a convicted felon, ought not to be accepted. It was not Childers, but John Hearn, another felon now serving a long sentence, who was with James when the burglary was committed.

Mr. Snow, in closing, contended that the attempt to prove that Childers was in Sanger at the time he was claimed to have been seen in Fresno was unsupported by testimony, though Childers had the process of the court at his disposal to procure witnesses.

Judge Webb briefly charged the jury that the offense, if proved, was burglary in the first degree, as the robbery had been committed at night, turned them over to the deputy sheriff with an intimation to avoid heated controversy, and endeavor to arrive at a verdict by a careful consideration of the evidence. The jury retired a few minutes before 6 o'clock.

The jury reported at 7.30 p.m. that there was no likelihood of their agreeing and were locked up for the night. It is rumored that they stood seven to five in favor of acquittal.

CARNOT'S SUCCESSOR.

CASIMIR-PERIER ELECTED PRESIDENT OF FRANCE.

He Receives 451 Out of 853 Votes Cast on the First Ballot.

VERSAILLES, June 27.—The senate and chamber of deputies sitting as the national assembly this afternoon elected Casimir-Perier president of the French republic. Perier received 451 out of 853 cast on the first ballot. The galleries around the theater in which the election took place presented a brilliant scene. They were thronged with ladies in fashionable toilets, and the fair sex seemed much interested in the proceedings. Just before the balloting opened a socialists deputy shouted: "I demand the abolition of the presidency." There were other cries from various parts of the hall which were lost in the general hubbub of election. Much excitement prevailed throughout.

IF you want to be in the swim support the Republican county ticket.

THE raisin association will help to bring prosperity to the county this fall. Sign the compact and help yourself and the cause along.

THE Democratic brethren are now struggling in the impossible attempt to make as good a county ticket as the Republicans have put in nomination.

THE press dispatches make a note of the fact that in impromptu receptions given by Colonel Breckinridge after his campaign addresses, the ladies are given the first chance to greet him. Who says that chivalry is dying out in Kentucky?

THE Visalia Delta says that there are a number of anarchist sympathizers in that community. They will bear watching—every one of them. People in sympathy with anarchists are themselves capable of committing infamous crimes.

THE New York World gives its friend Grover a body blow when it says: "The practice of using government vessels and other public property for purposes of private pleasure or profit ought to be prohibited by law, making it a special offense, with a suitable penalty of fine and imprisonment." Will the President please go a-fishing at his own expense hereafter?

THE proposed overland excursion to Monterey to participate in the ceremonies attending the beginning of work on the Monterey and Fresno railroad, would make a week's pleasant outing and show a proper interest in an event of great importance to this valley, as well as to the historic town where civilization found its earliest foothold on these golden shores.

THE industry with which the fadist is fadding at his fade in this country is evidence of one of two things, either that "a little learning is a dangerous thing," or that too much "culture" unfits the citizen for the service which he owes to a popular form of government. The latter supposition is extremely complimentary to the fadists, but it is not borne out by the fact that the most persistent rainbow chasers know the least even about rainbows

THE Democrats have turned loose a chalk and blackboard orator in Tulare county, and the unterrified claim that his figures and flourishes of rhetoric completely demolish Professor Rork and all other jawbone and chalk artists who have struck that neck o' the woods. The chalk professors are an innovation in politics, and like the gasmeter and the phonograph they will probably be classed as "modern conveniences," being more ornamental than useful or reliable.

GROVER has spoken again, and the country is assured that there is no reason to feel alarmed about the gold reserve. The assurance was quite superfluous, however. The people are not so much concerned about the money in the treasury as they are about the difficulty of getting any of that which is outside of it. They are perfectly confident that the gold reserve will be braced up with another bond issue as soon as the fall elections are over.

THE next move in the Republican campaign in this county will be the organization of the county central committee, which occurs on Saturday. The meeting should be attended by every member and by other Republicans who may have suggestions to offer in regard to plans for carrying on the campaign. Democratic predictions of wrangling and cross-purposes in the committee have not been lacking, and the best possible answer to these will be in the action of the committee on Saturday. If there is the slightest grounds for inharmony we do not know of what it consists. The same cry of factional strife was set up by the esteemed political enemy prior to the holding of the Republican county convention, but the result showed that convention to have been the most harmonious, and in every respect the most satisfactory ever held in the county. The proceedings throughout were marked by harmony and enthusiasm, and the ticket named was, as a whole, the strongest in the character and popularity of the nominees ever submitted to the voters of Fresno county. The organization of the central committee, we have no doubt, will be in keeping with the sentiment which prevailed in the county convention.

We are opposed to bossism and would help to defeat our own party if by doing so we could crush bossism in the party, but bossism is an incident of metropolitan politics and no party of power is free from it. Cator holds the Populist party of this state in the hollow of his hand, and Billy Foote will control the Democracy as soon as he is well enough. There is but one hope of divesting these men of their power and that lies in adopting the Australian ballot system to the conduct of primaries and conventions. This can be done and a law for it should be framed by the next legislature. We shall have more to say upon this point. —Tulare Register.

The Republican platform demands reforms in the methods of holding primary elections, and this paper does not believe that the Republican legislature, in conformity to that plank in the platform, can find any better means of securing the reform to which the party stands pledged than by adapting the Australian ballot system to the conduct of primaries and conventions. The superiority of that system has been fully demonstrated in general elections, and there is no good reasons why its advantages should not be extended to the primaries. To make any plan effective in the large cities, however, it will be necessary to take the appointing of election boards out of the hands of the politicians. The reforming of primaries and conventions is not a party question, but one in which all citizens who desire to see republican institutions perpetuated and the popular will actually expressed through the ballot are equally interested.

THE American tin industry is hard to kill. The free traders have been hammering away at it ever since it first dared to show evidence of existence, and in view of the energy they have displayed in attempting to discredit the industry they will evidently feel much distress when they learn that consumers are beginning to show a marked preference for the American product, not merely because it happens to be easier now to get than the foreign, but because it is of better quality. The Metal Worker says on this point:

"The quality of American tin plates generally is so good that consumers prefer them, ask for them, and take imported plates with reluctance if they cannot get domestic."

The Boston Journal observes that this is exceedingly ill-mannered of the American tin plate manufacturers. Their industry has been doomed to death by the Democratic party. Why could they not let it die quietly? Why persist in doing a good business in face of threatened extinction? They must understand that every million pounds of tin plate that they make and market takes away just so much business from the Welshmen. Not only that, but it confutes the Democratic statesmen who declared that we could not make tin plate, and discredits the veracity of the Democratic President who affirmed that we were not making it. The inconsiderate and heartless conduct of the American manufacturers in taking advantage of the straits of their foreign rivals, and in making better plate than they, cannot be too severely condemned.

THE San Francisco Call makes what appears a very lame excuse for the failure of San Francisco capitalists to build a competing railroad from that city through this valley. It says: "A good many people in this state do not see why the San Joaquin railroad is still only on paper. Experts have declared that the road is a good investment. It is admitted on all sides that it will add materially to the value of real estate both in the San Joaquin valley and in this city. There is at present no lack of money, and labor is even more plentiful than money. Still subscriptions do not flow in. Mr. Leeds is at the end of his resources for reasons why. He evidently does not like to say that too many of our solid men think it wise to keep on the right side of the Southern Pacific. The cost of freight is a large factor in all lines of business. Between discrimination for and discrimination against, merchants whose business depends upon reaching consumers at the lowest possible cost have to keep a sharp lookout. But San Francisco has now to choose between the loss that may result from subscriptions to a local competing railroad and the loss that will result from another opening from the heart of the San Joaquin valley to the sea. If the farmers of this valley have to construct their own road they will make the short cut to Monterey. There is an ugly range of mountains to cross on this route, but ranges of mountains do not block the progress of railroads as they did at one time. The Monterey route is practicable and it is short. Monterey does not afford the market that San Francisco does, but that route opens the way to sea transportation. It is not supposable that the $2,000,000 which the men who have the San Joaquin road in hand want in sight before they commence operations is the real obstacle to the construction of the road. If a man could subscribe and know that that was the end of it there would be no trouble about getting subscriptions. But very few men of large means are independent of the Southern Pacific Company."

THE traveling public will be seriously inconvenienced by the war that is being waged against the Pullman Car Company by the American Railway Union. The latter organization say they will bankrupt George M. Pullman in a short time, and that within ten days he will be rendered completely helpless. We do not know what the trouble is about, but think it an outrage that a man's property can be destroyed by a band of men in an un-American and unlawful manner.—Visalia Times.

The time is near at hand when some way must be provided for dealing with labor strikes, which not only in many cases do irreparable damage to the business directly affected but also affect disastrously thousands of people who have no connection whatever with the dispute in issue. This is a condition of affairs which cannot be permitted to continue indefinitely, for it is not only contrary to the spirit and purpose of government but its interference with the general convenience and rights of the people at large is becoming too serious to be longer tolerated. Just what measures can be adopted which will protect the rights of the public and property without unjustly limiting the rights of organized labor is a weighty problem, and its solution will require the most careful and dispassionate consideration of the ablest minds in the country. It seems possible that the suggestions relative to opening the way to the incorporation of labor unions, whereby organized labor would enjoy the same rights and privileges as similar incorporations of capital, and at the same time be governed by the legal restrictions imposed upon all corporations, are capable of being put into successful operation. It is evident to all thoughtful persons that too little responsibility now attaches to the great power wielded by labor organizations. Power, unaccompanied by a full responsibility for the results of its exercise inevitably leads to tyranny, and tyranny is something the American people cannot long endure, no difference from what source it comes. This question is now pressing for a speedy settlement, in which full justice must be done to all concerned.

PRICKLY ASH, POKE ROOT AND POTASSIUM

Makes Marvelous Cures in Blood Poison Rheumatism and Scrofula

P. P. P. purifies the blood, builds up the weak and debilitated, gives strength to weakened nerves, expels diseases, giving the patient health and happiness where sickness, gloomy feelings and lassitude first prevailed.

For primary, secondary and tertiary syphilis, for blood poisoning, mercurial poison, malaria, dyspepsia, and in all blood and skin diseases, like blotches, pimples, old chronic ulcers, tetter, scald head, boils, erysipelas, eczema—we may say, without fear of contradiction, that P. P. P. is the best blood purifier in the world, and makes positive, speedy and permanent cures in all cases.

Ladies whose systems are poisoned and whose blood is in an impure condition, due to menstrual irregularities, are peculiarly benefited by the wonderful tonic and blood cleansing properties of P. P. P.—Prickly Ash, Poke Root and Potassium.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Aug. 14th, 1893.—I can speak in the highest terms of your medicine from my own personal knowledge. I was affected with heart disease, pleurisy and rheumatism for 35 years, was treated by the very best physicians and spent hundreds of dollars, tried every known remedy without finding relief. I have only taken one bottle of your P. P. P., and can cheerfully say it has done me more good than anything I have ever taken. I can recommend your medicine to all sufferers of the above diseases.
MRS. M. M. YEARY.

Respectfully yours,
JAS. M. NEWTON,

Capt. J. D. Johnston.

To all whom it may concern: I hereby testify to the wonderful properties of P. P. P. for eruptions of the skin. I suffered for several years with an unsightly and disagreeable eruption on my face. I tried every known remedy but in vain, until P. P. P. was used, and am now entirely cured.

SEQUIN, TEX., January 14, 1893.
MESSRS. LIPPMAN BROS., Savannah, Ga.: Gentlemen—I have tried your P. P. P. for a disease of the skin, usually known as skin cancer, of thirty years' standing, and found great relief; it purifies the blood and removes all irritation from the seat of the disease and prevents any spreading of the sores. I have taken five or six bottles and feel confident that another course will effect a cure. It has also relieved me from indigestion and stomach troubles. Yours truly,

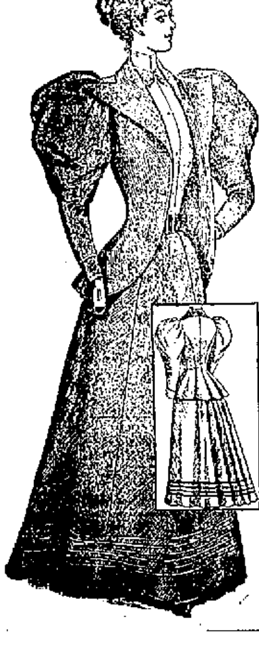
SERVICEABLE AND STYLISH.

586—FENWICK COAT. Sizes, 34, 36, 38 and 40 Inches Bust Measure.



Although very plain in effect as illustrated, this model is most practical for traveling, seaside and general wear. It is formed by the combination of the "Fenwick" coat and the "Gilbert" skirt, and embodies some of the most stylish features of the present day—the full gored skirt, and the newest style of blazer, which is tight fitting in the back and rounding away in front, disclosing a shirt waist. A waistcoat, basque or blouse waist can be substituted for the shirt waist. Covert cloth, homespun, tweed and serges are the popular materials for general wear, but for summer use, costumes of linen or cotton duck or canvass are exceedingly stylish and cool. Rows of stitching are used to finish the sleeves, collar and edges of the coat.

A special illustration and full directions about the pattern will be found on the envelope in which it is enclosed.

508—Gilbert Skirt. Sizes, medium and Large.

For any dress goods, light, medium or heavy in weight, this is an excellent model; graceful, of becoming fullness, and of equal length all around. It has gored fronts and side breadths, and a bias seam down the middle of the back, and the shape at the top makes it especially easy to fit. Line throughout, and put an interlining of not too stiff crinoline to any desired depth, between the lining and the outside. Finished with rows of stitching, it combines well with any of the tailor-made basques or coats.

A special illustration and full directions about the pattern will be found on the envelope in which it is enclosed.

A VERSATILE LIAR.

Queer Description of California.

HOW A SCOTCHMAN SEES US

Our Laws Denounced, Our Honesty Impugned and Our Women Insulted.

By the courtesy of a friend THE REPUBLICAN has been put in possession of a copy of the Northern Ensign, a newspaper published in Wick, the county town of Caithness, Scotland. The dullness of this Caledonian journal's columns is relieved by a letter from this city, signed by one C. J. Mackay. Mr. Mackay takes a column in the Ensign to write himself down a versatile prevaricator. His description of California and Californians teems with misrepresentations of the most inexcusable character, and if this were the lawless country he reports it to be he would be treated to a coat of tar and feathers.

Owing to the length of the letter it cannot be reproduced by THE REPUBLICAN in its entirety, but some of its most glaring falsehoods will be given so that THE REPUBLICAN'S readers may realize what a mistake the government is making in opening the country's portals to the scum of Europe, who abuse the liberty extended by our beneficent laws and blame the government for their failures.

Mr. Mackay sets out by saying: "Years ago, when a boy on the heath-clad hills of Sutherland, how I pictured in my Scottish mind this 'Golden Wonderland.' * * * Alas! I have seen it, and that visionary El Dorado of my Scottish imagination is vanished and gone. Instead of that Utopian dreamland, it is in fact but a realization of Dante's Inferno."

The reasons that Mr. Mackay gives for believing that California is hell, or next door to it, are as follows: "The California of today is the unhappy outcome of the wild and woolly days of '49. Back in the early forties bands of unscrupulous men rushed to these shores in quest of gold. Might was right. The handy six-shooter and the fierce stiletto were the ruling factors in justice. Money was the reigning deity, and blasphemy the common speech of the sitting-room. Today a good deal of this spirit lives, and if the bowie knife or the Winchester plays no part in the enforcement of law, yet it breathes forth that spirit still. Bribery, lust and political corruption constitute the Californian trinity.

"The boast of California is that there is not a single poorhouse in the country. But then who would expect such an institution in the land of a million of tramps. Traveling through the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys during the winter months, you will see more 'red blankets' (tramps) in a week than you would see in old Scotland in a life time. * * *

"Is there any law in California? You bet there is, and too much of it. If you enter suit against any one the law will take all the proceeds, and if you fail to enter suit the law will prosecute you for neglecting your duty. If you have any money the law will take possession of it in payment for taxes, and if you have no money the law will 'jug' you for vagrancy. The man who dabbles with the law in this fairy land of the great Pacific has a soft spot in his upper story and had better write across his brow, 'He who enters here leaves all hope behind.' * * *

"If you work for a man in California he seldom or never pays you. If he is a Christian he expects the Lord to pay you, and if he is an unbeliever he doesn't believe in paying any one. The man who does pay pays half, and retains the other half as a percentage fee. All moneyed men belong to the inner circle of gamblers. * * * God has no right to exist in the region of California unless His worshippers are permitted to believe in 'keeping all they have and grabbing all they can.' The gambler, the bunco steerer and the libertine are necessary elements to salvation, but man's chief end in California is to vote for the 'bosses.' If he fails in this respect, his place is east of the Rockies."

"The following is in a lighter vein: Among the notable characters of this sunny land of perpetual sunshine is the ubiquitous and omnipresent 'grass widow.' She is an indispensable part of western civilization. Every month she gets a new hat and a new husband. Her smile is sunshine and her anger hades. Californian society alone produces her. She is indigenous to the soil. The species of civilization that produces the grass widow is that same kind of civilization that produced in the days of Moses the sisterhood of Rahab.

"It is perhaps a sweeping assertion to say that there is not a virtuous woman on the Pacific coast, but, alas! it is not far from being too true. California is really a hotbed of lust and libertinism. Circumstances are such that it could hardly have been otherwise. The heathen Chinee, the hot-blooded Spaniard and the dumping-place of the lost sisterhood of all nations, makes California what it is. Things are transpiring here in the social circles that would raise the blush of shame on the cheeks of ancient Babylon" (!)

Other choice bits in this precious epistle are as follows: "Politeness is an unknown quantity among the western people. Everybody swears, from the judge on the superior bench down to the lowest 'hobo.' * * * * Every saloon is a gambling den, and it is generally over a game of 'stud-horse poker' that the ideas of government are formed. * * * Murderers move up and down the country as ordinary gentlemen, and occasionally dine with senators of state. * * * Men are thrown in jail fifty to a cell. Along side of every prison are a hundred saloons. * * * The press of California belongs to the saloon and politics. There is no protection to the weak. He becomes the mortgaged slave of the strong. * * * Is it any wonder that the Golden West has become the home of the libertine and the stage robber?" and so on, ad nauseam.

Well may one exclaim derisively after reading the foregoing extracts from Mr. Mackay's letter, "Tertius e celo cecidit Cato!" It would take too much time to contradict at length the falsehoods uttered by this Scotchman. Passing comments may be made upon a few of them, however. California enjoys the same degree of civilization that other states in the union do, and has many advantages over other states that require no mention here. The men who came here in the days of old, the days of gold, the days of '49, were of a hardy race, the flower of eastern youth, men who could endure hardships without murmuring, and whose indomitable energy and industry made California what it is today—a land where every industrious and intelligent man can make a good living.

The absurdity of Mr. Mackay's assertion that California has a million tramps can be shown in no better way than by stating the population of the state, which the census of 1890 declares to be 1,208,130. If Mr. Mackay has been unfortunate and has had to tramp, but prefers the wretched poorhouse system of Great Britain, he should hie himself to the bonny braes of Scotia and enjoy the benefits of one of these institutions.

Mr. Mackay displays a suspicious dislike of the law as administered in California. What Mr. Mackay has done to the law and the law to him is a matter of conjecture, but, judging from the feeling manner in which he refers to the law, he must have been worsted. No fury like that of a disappointed litigant or a law breaker. The only thing that can be argued against California law, or the law of the country for that matter, is that it contains too many relics of the old and barbarous English system whence it is derived.

This impolite letter writer shows the most abominable ignorance when he writes of the geographical distribution of the grass widow. She is to be found in all countries, even in the land of oatcakes. Was there ever a more notorious grass widow than Mary Stuart? As for his other statements concerning the festive g. w., they are correct enough. Perhaps Mr. Mackay has had some experience in dealing with them.

The most villainous lie Mr. Mackay utters is that calling into question the virtue of the women of the Pacific coast. It is indeed a "sweeping assertion" to say there is not a virtuous woman on this coast and that California is a hotbed of libertinism. In fact, it is a little more than that. How did Mr. Mackay get this information about our maids and matrons? Has he perhaps the famous mirror of the king of the genii, by means of which he can tell whether a woman is virtuous or not, or has he made a personal test? If the latter, it were well that this Scotchman were made harmless in the approved Oriental way.

That a paper of the evident dulness and presumed respectability of the Northern Ensign should print such an outrageous libel, proves that the much-vaunted conservatism of the press of Great Britain is a fiction, and that the papers there are as little averse to sensationalism as are the newspapers of this country. It is not worth while to notice by comment Mr. Mackay's many other falsehoods. He may be dismissed with this imitation of an epigram by Martial:

From fishy Wick to Pulteney town,
Or e'en to Thurso far,
There's not a liar of such renown
Who can the truth so mar
As C. J. Mackay, loathsome Scot,
Of nature coarse and base.
On earth he is a stinking blot—
E'en hell he would disgrace.

A Card From Surveyor Hoxie.

In justice to myself I deem it necessary to make the following statement, as a number of my friends have suggested the same, who know the workings of the county surveyor's office regarding bills.

As appears in the May allowance of the Board of Supervisors as published in the daily journals, a sum total of $310 was allowed under my name. Of this amount $149 was cash expended for the services of various persons on the several surveys that were made during the months of April and May. Had the list as published stated the service as does the official list, this explanation would not be necessary. Respectfully,

GEORGE L. HOXIE, County Surveyor.

East Fresno Democrats.

The Democrats of east Fresno met and organized last night. W. J. Hutchinson was elected chairman of the meeting, which numbered about fifty persons. Of these twenty-five signed the roll. W. J. Hutchinson, Jessie M. Musick and E. Stone were recommended as candidates for delegates to the convention, and the meeting was addressed by A. M. Park, C. L. Wainwright, R. L. Peeler, N. L. F. Bachman, L. A. Winchell, Herman Levy, J. M. Collier, George Hutchinson, John Ashman and others.

An Unpalatable Fish Story.

George A. Beall came up from the Laguna de Tache yesterday, and states that the fish in Kings river are dying in such large numbers that they are piled up along the shore and along the shoals to such an extent that the stench is almost insupportable. The fish are of all kinds common to the waters, and it is said that a number of them caught in a diseased and dying condition are being peddled on the streets.

Teachers' Certificates.

The county Board of Education completed its labors yesterday, having examined all the papers in connection with the recent teachers' examinations. There were three applicants for High school certificates, but only one was successful, namely, F. N. Miller of Fresno colony. Miss Gertrude Rowell was recommended by the board for an educational diploma, and Mrs. L. E. Drennen for a life diploma. A large number of certificates were also granted on credentials.

TRAINS TIED UP.

Pullman Cars Boycotted by the American Railway Union.

As a result of the action of the American Railway Union in refusing to handle Pullman cars, the officials at the depot in this city were notified last evening that train No. 17 from Oakland, arriving here at 1.25 a.m., and train 18 from Los Angeles, arriving at 2.45 a.m., would not run. The same applies to train 30 from New Orleans, due here at 9 a.m. This will of course cut off the mails.

Superintendent Frazier said last evening that the Southern Pacific railroad had resolved not to run the trains without the Pullman cars, and they will be tied up accordingly till a settlement is reached.

The local train from Lathrop was not affected by the order, and arrived on time last night. The strike will not affect the running of freight trains.

Were Neighbors of Chris.

From the Visalia Delta.

Amos Bierer has confessed that Keener, Dowdle and himself were the men who held up the Angels stage, and shot and wounded a lady and gentleman passenger. The residence of a brother of Bierer, north of this city, was under surveillance for some time after the stand-up of the stage, thinking that Amos would make his appearance there, but he did not come this way. The three robbers were formerly of this county, Dowdle and Keener being born here.

Will Not Celebrate.

The meeting called at armory hall last night to arrange for a local celebration of the Fourth of July, did not come off. Only two citizens, Fritz Paatsch and J. F. Noble, responded to the call, and after waiting nearly an hour they went home with comments appropriate to the situation.

THE RAGSDALE INQUIRY.

A Correspondent Criticises the Officer's Prosecutors.

EDITOR REPUBLICAN:—As a citizen of Fresno and one who wishes to see fair play, I desire to enter a protest against the farce conducted by the City Council, or the chairman of the City Council, in the alleged investigation against Special Officer Ragsdale on Tuesday evening. I do not wish to be considered as advocating Mr. Ragsdale's cause, as I have no particular interest in his fight, and presume he will be able to take care of himself.

It had been particularly stated in both of the daily papers that there would be a thorough investigation of all matters in connection with the difficulty, and as there have been charges made against certain officers in connection with this office in Chinatown, I for one believe it was for the best interest of the community that a full and fair investigation be had, let the result fall where it would. But for reasons wholly obscure to most persons present, the chairman determined that nothing should be said about anything but the difficulty between Reardon and Ragsdale, which had been laundried in the justices' courts and the columns of the papers until it seems to me that even as opaque a body as the City Council ought to have caught on.

The only question in connection with that difficulty for the council to investigate was: Did Mr. Ragsdale make the assault on Mr. Reardon without provocation? If Ragsdale's statement is to be believed I think he was justified in knocking Reardon out, and in order to determine that fact a full investigation of all the facts leading up to it were certainly a part of the case.

The fact is that it has for years been reported that certain officers and their deputies have been levying tribute on the Chinese, and the records of some of our courts certainly lend credence to the rumor. It is well known that certain officers have repeatedly (not so frequently since the law of 1893) raided Chinatown and raked in thirty or forty on an alleged charge of "tan playing," and after a nominal cash bail had been exacted for some unknown reason the cases have been dropped and never heard from again. It is said that the tricks of the "Heathen Chinee" are peculiar, but I think that some of the officers can give him two to one and then beat him.

It is the only time that I have had the opportunity of attending a court where one man posed as judge and jury and witness at the same time. Risley had to only suggest an objection to a question, when it went. By the way, "Judge" Risley's position of both hands in his hip pockets will certainly lend a dignity and grace to the bench that will be difficult to find "after the election."

It was reported on the street ten days ago that Ragsdale's star must drop, and so it dropped. Now must the Chinese pungle? Yours for fair play, CITIZEN

A HARD PROBLEM.

How to Adjust Production and Labor to Mechanical Progress.

From the Kern County Echo

Here are some facts which the farmer will find interesting and perhaps he will be able to discover in them some of the causes of the agricultural depression which afflicts the agricultural world. A careful estimate has disclosed the fact that the labor of one man in the great wheat growing northwest produces 5500 bushels of wheat in the season. Reserving 500 bushels of this for seed and shipping the remainder to Minneapolis the labor of one other man there turns that 5000 bushels of wheat into flour. An average of two men, working through the year, do all the work of transporting the wheat and flour to New York city, where three men make it up into bread in a mammoth bakery and then distribute it to customers. If we allow that three more men keep in repair all the machinery in use from first operation to last and the five bushels of wheat furnished bread enough to last one person a year, we have developed the important fact that the labor of ten men through the year supplies 1000 people with a year's bread. A generation ago it probably required the labor of 100 men, first and last, to supply 1000 people with bread. Need any man go further to find an all sufficient cause for agricultural depression? Is not the elimination of ninety men out of a hundred sufficient cause for idleness among the ninety? Of course the world has learned to consume more, but consumption is a laggard by the side of industrial production in our age of the world. It has not been so before.—Tulare Register.

We have no knowledge as to how correct or reliable the Register's source of information is, but it is not hard for us to believe what it says. Inventive genius and mechanical skill have invaded the domain of labor until man is scarcely a noticeable factor in many lines of production

The Echo has noted this fact repeatedly, and long ago stated its belief that labor-saving machinery was the principal factor in producing idle hands. From unwilling idleness in the first instance came, by natural influences, the wilful idler, the vagabond and the petty criminal.

But when we have made these deductions we confess we are at the end of our tether. We see the evil and believe we see the cause, but that does not bring us to its solution. Whatever ought to be done, the world will not voluntarily turn the wheels of progress backward. The farmer who gathers his crop with a combined header and thresher will not go back to the cradle and flail, nor will any other branch of production be slowed down in its speed.

THE SUPERVISORS.

An Attempt to Divide the General Fund.

There were two matters for settlement when the supervisors met yesterday morning, and when they adjourned in the afternoon it was without reaching a a conclusion on either.

The first was the matter of Architect Carlett's claim of $447.72, balance of commission on the courthouse construction. It appeared from the irregular argument carried on that Chairman Letcher, Wickersham and Foster were opposed to paying the claim, while Butler and Sayre were in favor of payment. Finally, on the motion of Foster, the matter was referred to Attorney Tupper for his opinion, which will be rendered at 10 a.m. to-day.

The other issue is one which has caused no end of trouble in the board before, and may easily cause more. There is in the general fund a sum of between $12,000 and $13,000, from which amounts are transferred from time to time for the aid of "impoverished roads." Now, there is perfect unanimity of feeling amongst the supervisors on one point, that each of them has the most impoverished district in the county. The distribution of several thousand dollars at one time, and especially on the eve of an election, gives a supervisor considerable influence, and hence when the subject came up yesterday each member of the board was prepared to call for everything in sight.

The recent quarrel between Chairman Letcher and Supervisor Butler, which came near a serious termination, was as to Letcher's claim for $6000 of the money for his district. Butler then claimed, as he claimed yesterday, that his district pays one-third of the taxes of the county outside of Fresno and that the lion's share of the appropriation should be his. It was not stated where the other three districts were to come in, if these two should get $6000 or even $4000 each.

Yesterday Chairman Letcher wanted $4000 at once. This brought out a remonstrance from Butler, and the supervisors tried to figure all day on an equitable apportionment of the $12,000. The matter was finally passed without action and will come up at 10 a.m. to-day.

The indications are that Letcher will get $3500 and that the rest of the money will remain in the general fund, to be drawn on by the other districts as necessity arises. This shelves the proposal to build a county poorhouse and maintain a farm, which course would save the county many hundred dollars a month.

FRESNO CAMPERS.

How They Are Enjoying Themselves In the Yosemite.

From the Yosemite Tourist.

Mid a village of tents, easy camp chairs and alluring hammocks, near the grand old Sentinel is encamped the Sherwood-Warner party, all of Fresno and Fowler. They have been here over one week and Mr. Warner will remain until after the Fourth. The Sherwood party will return Monday. Mr. Sherwood is the happiest man in camp. He has seven children with him and six are girls, and four of those wear boy's clothing. The way they scamper about and amuse themselves is a pleasure for all.

Mr. Warner, though a slightly built man, has a voice. When he yells the mountains vibrate, El Capitan looks displeased and the Old Man of the Mountain on the Half Dome looks more warlike than ever. No doubt when Gabriel blows his final horn he will have H. C. Warner for assistant.

Then there is William C. Harvey, genial, jovial, the life of the party and general favorite. The camp consists of H. C. Warner and wife, Edna Warner, Frank Warner, Miss Lillian Westfall, W. C. Harvey, Harry Sherwood and wife, Millidge Sherwood, Annie, Florence, Mable, Edith, Gladis and Dattie Sherwood, Willie Monroe, all of Fresno, and Willard Norris of Fowler.

Camp Del Rio is pleasantly situated in a grove of pines on the banks of the Merced river. It commands a beautiful view of the Royal Arches, Yosemite falls, Half Dome and Glacier Point. The party consists of Miss Randolph of Virginia, Miss Louise Steinmetz of Santa Cruz, Miss Adelia Witt, Fred Prescott and Clyde Olney of Fresno.

R. W. Riggs, wife and child of Fresno, are on the camping grounds.

A Scrupulous Censor.

When Rome was under the papal power, a play was once submitted to the prelate charged with the revision of manuscripts for the press. In the first scene an actor is represented as sitting at a table and calling, "Waiter, a beefsteak." The scrupulous censor wrote in the margin: "Note—When the piece is played during Lent, the actor, instead of calling for a beefsteak, will order an omelet."—San Francisco Argonaut.

Troops Wanted on Call.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—A request for troops subject to call has been forwarded to the secretary of war because prospecting parties are preparing to overrun the Blackfoot Indian reservation, Montana. The communication inclosed the report of Indian Commissioner Browning, stating that the Indian police force is unable to keep these parties from the reservation, and recommends that two troops of cavalry be furnished on call of Agent Cook. The department has decided to allow no prospecting on the reservation.

BIGGAR'S DRESS SUIT.

The Thrifty Parnellite Who Walked Rather Than Pay a Penny.

Talking of the speaker's dinners to members, at which, in compliment to the official position of the host as representative of her majesty in the house of commons, levee dress or uniform is worn by the guests, I was once told a funny story of the late Joseph Biggar, the thorny tempered deformed little bacon merchant who was the aristocratic, refined Parnell's first ally and for some time his only follower in parliament.

Biggar was not a poor man, but he was a thrifty one, and he hated the idea of spending money on a court dress. Yet Mr. Parnell liked his party to appear at the speaker's dinners as asserting their privileges of parliament. So Biggar undertook the irksome expense of hiring a court suit in which to go to dine with the speaker. The man who told me the story, another member who was not dining officially that night, was in the habit of going home with Biggar on the top of the last tram—they lived near each other out Lambreth way somewhere—and on this night the quaint little form of Biggar appeared in his smart, trim dress, sword, paste buttons and all, without even an overcoat, to go home, as usual.

His companion remonstrated, but in vain, nor would Biggar even consent to ride as far as the tram would have taken him, but got down, as was his custom, at the extreme point to which a penny conveyed him and walked the street thence to his rooms. His companion went so far as to offer to pay the extra penny out of his own pocket, but Biggar refused sternly. He was savage at the foolish expense to which he had already gone and would not have even a penny more made of it.

A man capable of such indifference to costume has a right to remonstrate about feminine attention to dress, but few are those men!—Mrs. Fenwick-Miller in London Graphic.

"She Looketh Well

to the ways of her household." Yes, Solomon is right; that's what the good housekeeper everywhere does,

But her ways are not always old ways. In fact she has discarded many unsatisfactory old ways. For instance, to-day she is using the New Shortening, instead of lard. And this is in itself a reason why "she looketh well" in another sense, for she eats no lard to cause poor digestion and a worse complexion.

COTTOLENE is much better than lard for all cooking purposes, as every one who has tried it declares. Have you tried it?
